Version 1.0 · For Brands & Content Creators

For Brands	For Creators
Post campaigns · Review creators · Verify deliverables · Pay securely	Browse campaigns · Connect Instagram/YouTube · Apply · Get paid

1. What is InfluenceX?

InfluenceX is a two-sided marketplace that connects small brands with content creators (influencers) for paid collaboration campaigns. It solves two problems at once: brands waste budget on unverified influencers, and genuine creators struggle to find and price their work fairly.

InfluenceX introduces a structured, transparent process — from campaign discovery all the way to verified payment — with no external spreadsheets, no DM chasing, and no invoice follow-up required.

What makes it different

Account Verification	Creators connect their real Instagram or YouTube accounts. Brands see verified follower counts and engagement rates — not self-reported numbers.
Structured Workflow	Every collaboration follows the same lifecycle: Apply → Accept → Deliver → Verify → Pay → Rate. No steps can be skipped.
Built-in Chat	Negotiation, deliverable discussion, and all communication happens inside the platform — fully documented and safe for both parties.
Secure Payment	Payment is released only after the brand verifies deliverables. Powered by Razorpay. No invoices, no wire transfers.
Reputation System	After every collaboration, both sides rate each other. Ratings are public and accumulate — the best creators and most professional brands rise to the top.

2. Getting Started

2.1 Creating Your Account

Open InfluenceX and click Register. You will be asked to choose your role before anything else:

Brand

- Post campaigns with requirements
- Browse verified creator profiles
- Approve or reject applicants
- Review submitted deliverables
- Release payment after verification
- Rate creators after each collaboration

Content Creator

- Browse and apply to live campaigns
- Connect Instagram or YouTube account
- Show verified stats to brands
- Negotiate deliverables via chat
- Submit proof of published content
- Receive secure payment
- Rate brands after each collaboration

After choosing your role, fill in your name, email, and a password, then verify your email address. You will be taken directly to your dashboard.

2.2 Navigating the App

The app has two main navigation areas:

Top Header	Contains the InfluenceX logo (click to open the sidebar), a search bar to search campaigns, sort and filter controls, a + Create button (brands only), a wallet icon, notification bell, and your profile avatar.

Sidebar (Vertical Navbar)	Opens when you click the logo. Contains: My Collaborations (influencers) or My Promotions (brands), Messages, About, and Help.

3. Brand Flow — Creating & Managing Campaigns

3.1 Creating a Campaign

Click the + Create button in the header. Fill in the campaign form:

1. Title — A clear name for your campaign (e.g. "GlowUp Skincare — Summer Reels")
2. Description / Brief — What you want the creator to make, tone, key messages, dos and don'ts
3. Platform — Instagram, YouTube, TikTok, etc.
4. Niche — The content category (Skincare, Tech, Food, Fitness, etc.)
5. Required followers — A range (e.g. 10,000 – 80,000)
6. Budget range — The amount you are willing to pay per creator (in ₹)
7. Deadline — When the content must be published by

Click Publish. Your campaign is immediately visible to all creators on InfluenceX whose profile matches your niche and follower criteria.

3.2 Reviewing Applications

When creators apply, you receive a notification. Navigate to My Promotions → your campaign → Applications. Each applicant card shows:

- Verified follower count (pulled directly from Instagram or YouTube)
- Real engagement rate
- Niche tags
- Their proposed rate
- A personal cover message

Click an applicant to see their full verified profile. You can then:

Accept	Opens a private chat with the creator immediately. Collaboration begins.

Reject	Removes the application. The creator is notified.

3.3 Chat & Negotiation

Once you accept a creator, a private chat opens between you and them. Use this to:

- Discuss deliverables in detail (number of posts, format, length)
- Agree on the final price
- Share product details, shipping address, or brand assets
- Set a firm content deadline

All messages are stored permanently in InfluenceX. If there is ever a dispute, the chat record is used by our support team as evidence.

3.4 Reviewing Deliverables

When the creator submits their content, you receive a notification. Open the application timeline and click View Deliverables to see:

- The type of content (Instagram Reel, YouTube Short, etc.)
- A thumbnail preview image
- A direct link to the live published content

If the deliverables meet your brief, click Accept & Pay. This opens the Razorpay payment checkout. Complete the payment to release funds to the creator.

If the content needs revision, click Request Revision. The creator will be notified and can resubmit.

3.5 Payment

InfluenceX uses Razorpay for all payments. After clicking Accept & Pay:

1. A Razorpay order is created for the agreed amount
2. The Razorpay checkout window opens — you can pay by UPI, card, net banking, or wallet
3. Once payment is captured, funds are instantly transferred to the creator's InfluenceX wallet
4. You receive a confirmation notification

If payment fails at any step, a Retry Payment button appears on the timeline. The collaboration does not close until payment succeeds.

3.6 Rating the Creator

After payment completes, a "Rate Influencer" option appears on your timeline. Give a star rating (1–5) and a written comment. This rating is visible on the creator's public profile and helps other brands make better decisions.

4. Creator Flow — Finding & Completing Collaborations

4.1 Connecting Your Social Account

Before you can apply to any campaign, you must connect at least one social account. Go to your Profile and click Connect Instagram or Connect YouTube. This triggers an OAuth authentication flow — you log in with your social account and grant InfluenceX read-only access to your public stats.

Once connected, InfluenceX displays your verified:

- Follower count
- Engagement rate
- Average views per post
- Audience demographics (age, gender, location)

This data is shown to brands when you apply. It cannot be edited manually — it is pulled directly from the platform. This is your proof of legitimacy.

4.2 Browsing Campaigns

The home feed shows all live campaigns. Use the header controls to:

- Search by keyword or brand name
- Filter by platform (Instagram, YouTube, etc.) or niche
- Sort by newest, highest budget, or closest deadline

Click any campaign card to open the full brief. You will see the required follower range, platform, budget, deadline, and the brand's detailed description.

4.3 Applying to a Campaign

If the campaign is a good fit, click Apply. You will be asked to:

1. Write a cover message — explain why you are a great fit and what you can bring to this campaign
2. Propose your rate — the amount you want to be paid for the deliverables

Your verified social stats are automatically attached to your application. The brand can see everything they need without you needing to share a media kit.

4.4 After Acceptance — Chat & Agreement

If the brand accepts your application, a private chat opens. Use it to:

- Confirm the exact deliverables (how many posts, format, duration)
- Negotiate if the final price is different from your proposal

- Get the product details, shipping info, or creative assets from the brand
- Agree on a content submission deadline

Once you are both aligned, create the content and publish it on your social channel.

4.5 Submitting Deliverables

After publishing, open My Collaborations and find the campaign. Click Submit Deliverables. For each piece of content, provide:

1. Content type (Instagram Reel, YouTube Short, Blog Post, etc.)
2. The live URL of the published content
3. An optional preview image URL (screenshot of the post)

You can add multiple deliverables in one submission (e.g. one Reel + two Stories). Click Submit All when done.

If the brand requests a revision, you can resubmit from the same screen. If you believe the rejection is unfair, use the Report Problem button.

4.6 Getting Paid

Once the brand accepts your deliverables and completes payment, you receive a notification. The payment appears in your InfluenceX wallet. Settlement to your bank account follows Razorpay's standard payout schedule.

4.7 Rating the Brand

After payment, two rating options appear on your collaboration timeline:

Rate Brand	How professional and fair was this brand to work with? Were the brief and requirements clear?
Rate Post / Campaign	How well was the campaign structured? Was it worth your time and effort?

Both ratings build a public reputation for the brand. Brands with high ratings attract better creators to future campaigns.

5. Collaboration Status Reference

Every application moves through a defined set of statuses. Here is what each one means:

Status	What it means

Application Submitted	The creator has successfully submitted their application and cover message.
Pending Review	The brand has not yet reviewed the application. The creator can withdraw at this stage.
Accepted	The brand accepted the application. A private chat has opened between them.
In Progress	Content creation is actively underway.
Rejected	The brand chose not to proceed with this creator.
Withdrawn	The creator withdrew their own application before a decision was made.
Deliverables Overdue	The agreed content deadline passed without submission. The creator should submit immediately.
Deliverables Submitted	The creator uploaded their content links and screenshots. Awaiting brand review.
Under Review	The brand is actively reviewing the submitted content.
Deliverables Accepted	The brand approved the content. Payment is being initiated.
Deliverables Rejected	The content did not meet the brief. The creator can revise and resubmit.
Payment Pending	A Razorpay order has been created. Waiting for the brand to complete checkout.
Payment Successful	The brand's payment has been captured and is being transferred.
Payment Failed	The payment could not be processed. The brand can retry from the timeline.
Receiving Payment	Payment is in transit to the creator's InfluenceX wallet.
Settled	Payment has fully arrived. The collaboration is complete.

6. Messages

The Messages page (accessible from the sidebar) shows all your active chats. Each chat is tied to one campaign collaboration. Chats are created automatically when a brand approves a creator — neither party can initiate a chat independently.

Inside a chat you can:

- Send text messages
- Share links, product specs, or creative references
- Discuss and agree on price changes
- Coordinate shipping and content timelines

Messages are permanent. They cannot be deleted by either party. This protects both brands and creators in the event of a dispute.

7. Reporting a Problem

If something goes wrong during a collaboration — an unfair rejection, an unclear brief, a payment issue — use the Report Problem button on the collaboration timeline. You will be asked to:

1. Select a category (Unfair rejection / Unclear requirements / Payment issue / Other)
2. Describe what happened in detail

Our support team reviews every report within 24 hours. The full chat history and status timeline are available to our team as evidence.

8. Your Profile & Wallet

8.1 Profile

Your profile is your public identity on InfluenceX. It shows:

- Your name, bio, and niche tags
- Connected social accounts with verified stats
- Star rating (average across all collaborations)
- Number of completed collaborations
- Public reviews left by brands or creators you worked with

Brands can view your full profile before approving your application. Keep your bio accurate and your social accounts connected.

8.2 Wallet

The wallet icon in the header shows your current InfluenceX balance. Funds appear here after a brand's payment is captured. Payouts to your linked bank account are handled by Razorpay according to their standard settlement schedule.

9. Tips for Success

For Brands

- Write a detailed brief — the more specific you are, the better the content you will receive.
- Set a realistic budget — check typical market rates for your niche before posting.
- Respond quickly — creators apply to multiple campaigns. Fast approvals get the best talent.
- Be specific about revisions — if you request a revision, explain exactly what needs to change.
- Leave honest ratings — your reputation as a brand affects who applies to your future campaigns.

For Creators

- Connect your account before browsing — you cannot apply without a verified social account.
- Write a personalised cover message — copy-pasting the same pitch to every campaign gets noticed.
- Propose a fair rate — research market rates for your niche and follower range before applying.
- Deliver on time — late submissions reflect in your ratings and may lead to rejection.

- Use the chat — if you are unsure about anything in the brief, ask before you create the content.
- Resubmit confidently — if deliverables are rejected, read the feedback carefully and revise specifically.

10. Frequently Asked Questions

Can I apply to a campaign without connecting my social account?

No. Connecting Instagram or YouTube is required before applying. This is the verification step that builds trust with brands.

Can a brand edit a campaign after posting?

Minor edits (like updating the deadline or budget) are possible before any applications are received. Once applications exist, the brief should not change significantly.

What happens if a creator does not submit deliverables by the deadline?

The status automatically moves to "Deliverables Overdue." The creator can still submit, but the delay is visible in the timeline and may affect their rating.

Can a brand cancel a collaboration after accepting a creator?

Cancellations after acceptance should go through our support team. Use the Report Problem feature to initiate this process.

What payment methods does InfluenceX support?

All methods supported by Razorpay: UPI, debit/credit card, net banking, and popular wallets.

Is my chat visible to InfluenceX?

InfluenceX support staff can access chat records only when a Report Problem has been filed. They are not monitored in real time.

Can I work with the same creator/brand again?

Yes. The brand can create a new campaign and the creator can apply again. Previous collaborations and ratings are visible on both profiles.
